

FARMER-PROTEST MOVEMENT IS GAINING IMPETUS

SOUTHERN CROSS MAY RESUME ITS JOURNEY MONDAY

Next Hop of the Pacific Fliers Most Perilous of Flight

Honolulu, June 2. —(AP)— Encouraged by a successful 2,400 mile flight along the treacherous Pacific air lane from Oakland, Cal., the crew of the huge tri-motored monoplane Southern Cross today turned with confidence to preparations for the second and longest hop in the 17,788 mile flight to Australia.

After covering the distance from Oakland with some fuel in reserve on their landing at Wheeler Field here, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions faced the problem of planning to fly 3,144 miles to Suva or to the Isle of Opolu at British Somoa, about 2,500 miles from Hawaii. They pointed out that they had enough gasoline to fly for three hours when they reached here 27 hours and 28 minutes after leaving the mainland. They left Oakland with 1,200 gallons.

New Hop Perilous.

The next hop is recognized by aviators as the most perilous of the journey and the facilities for landing at Opolu were recommended by the British consul here as being better than those at Suva.

However, the authorities at Suva were going ahead with preparations to receive the Southern Cross.

Captain Kingsford-Smith planned to spend most of his time today at Wheeler Field in making a thorough check of the Southern Cross. If the craft is found airworthy it will be flown to the Island of Kauai, one of the nearby Hawaiian group and from the Barking Sands runway there, the second hop will take place.

Prior to the inspection Captain Kingsford-Smith said the Southern Cross had shown such air worthiness that he could say definitely that the take-off from Barking Sands would be made soon—not later than next Monday unless poor flying weather prevents.

The Southern Cross rested today with the tri-motored Bird of Paradise, the plane in which Lieutenants Maitland and Hagenberger made their epochal flight from the mainland in 25 hours and 50 minutes.

Had Operation.

After their arrival yesterday the four airmen slept at a Waikiki Hotel. A small dinner was held in their honor last night and they planned a visit today to Governor Wallace R. Farrington, who was at the field yesterday to greet them.

Whether the radio beacon would be used on the flight from Barking Sands was undecided. Army authorities stood ready to arrange this service if requested.

On the flight to Honolulu the radio beacon functioned perfectly for the first three hours when it was lost by the Southern Cross. The directional signals which were intended to keep the plane on a true course were never picked up again by the plane.

Lieutenant Commander Harry Lyon, navigator, kept the plane on the course by dead reckoning.

Radio Success.

As a check, James Warner, the radio operator, kept up steady communication with ships and shore stations. aviators considered the outstanding feat of the flight to be the exceptional success of these radio communications.

During Thursday night the Southern Cross sighted three ships with which searchlight signals were exchanged.

The clouds through which the Southern Cross passed, continued to block visibility until the plane was within 300 miles of Hawaii.

A cheer of steamer whistles and automobile horns greeted the plane as it flew over Honolulu. At Wheeler Field the fliers were welcomed by a crowd which included representatives of Hawaii's official and civil life.

Baker is Appointed Arbitration Court

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—President Coolidge has appointed Newton B. Baker of Cleveland, Secretary of War in the Wilson cabinet, as the fourth United States member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at the Hague. Secretary Kellogg, in announcing the appointment today, said Mr. Baker had accepted.

In appointing Mr. Baker the President did so with the idea of having two democrats and two republicans as members of the permanent court which was established under the convention signed at the Hague in 1899. The other three United States members are Elihu Root, John Bassett Moore and Charles Evan Hughes. Their appointments are for six years and are renewable.

Mr. Moore recently resigned as a judge of the permanent court of International Justice at The Hague under the League of Nations.

PEKING WILL BE SURRENDERED TO SOUTHERN FORCE

Marshal Tso-Lin Will Leave City at Midnight, He Says

BULLETIN

Peking, June 2.—(AP)—Marshal Chang Tso-Lin is leaving Peking at midnight. It is understood he has arranged for the Shansi leaders to take over the northern capital peacefully.

Tokyo, June 2.—(AP)—Reports from Peking say that negotiations for the peaceful turning over of Peking from the Northerners to the Nationalists are in progress.

The reports state that replying to inquiries from the peace preservation committee of Peking, Generals Chiang Kai-Shek, Feng Yu-Hsiang and Yen Hsi-Shan, the Nationalist allies, have jointly announced that they will entrust to the committee the task of preserving peace and order during the transition period and will not allow troops to enter the capital for some time. A few troops under the Shansi General Kan Ching-Lin, who will be appointed provost marshal temporarily, will be sent to the city, however.

Another reports says that uneasiness prevails in Peking because of a rumor that Communists are planning disturbances after the withdrawal of the Northerners.

Iowa Liquor Runner Still in Co. Jail

Frank Allen, alias Frank Marion, of Davenport, Iowa, who was taken in custody by Sheriff Ward Miller early yesterday morning with a $2,000 cargo of liquor, enroute from Chicago to the Iowa city, is still confined in the Lee county jail. City Attorney Lambach of Davenport, Assistant State Attorney Brown of Whiteside county and I. Wahl of Davenport, came to Dixon yesterday afternoon and conferred with State's Attorney Mark C. Keller in an attempt to secure Marion's release.

Arrangements for the bond of $2,500 were discussed at some length. It was reported and the Whiteside county assistant state's attorney was to return to Dixon this afternoon to make further plans to secure Marion's release. It was reported.

Fear of receiving a heavy fine in the local courts was said to have caused Marion's legal advisers much concern and the state's attorney's office received a number of long distance telephone calls during yesterday, but it was indicated that the case would be submitted to the September grand jury to be tried at that term of the circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kruse, Mrs. Maud McCann, Misses Doris Miller and Lorraine Johnson, Edward Berguson and Pierre Beartschi of Chicago were guests over Wednesday at the home of Sheriff and Mrs. Ward F. Miller.

Mrs. Gertrude Petty and her sister, Mrs. Ethel Trottnow, left yesterday for Wheaton, to attend the funeral of their uncle.

—Transmitted by Radiophoto and Telephoto. Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc. Reproduction prohibited.

By means of two remarkable inventions—radiophoto and telephoto—this picture showing the arrival of the trans-Pacific flyers at Honolulu Friday afternoon (United States time) was flashed 5000 miles over land and water in less than four hours. The photo shows Captain Kingsford-Smith, Relief Pilot G. P. T. Ulm and Radioman James Warner of the "Southern Cross" being greeted at Wheeler Field, near Honolulu, by Governor Farrington of Hawaii and two of the Dole race flyers. From left to right are Farrington, Warner, Martin Jensen (Dole flyer), Kingsford-Smith, Ulm and Art Goebel, winner of the Dole race. The picture was taken by an NEA photographer at Wheeler Field, transmitted by radio from Honolulu to San Francisco and thence across the United States by telephoto wires. Observe the festive Hawaiian leis which the governor of the islands has placed around the necks of the daring flyers.

ORGANIZATION OF CONVENTION IS TAKING FORM

Heads of Republican Committee Gather in Kansas City

Kansas City, June 2.—(AP)—The Republican national convention organization today took on more definite form with heads of committees attempting to speed perfection of arrangements for the opening session, June 12.

Arrival yesterday of Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican National Committee, with part of his staff precipitated a series of conferences on housing, entertainment, distribution of spectators tickets and preparation of Convention Hall.

Mr. Butler said the first national committee sessions probably would be called the first of next week, when a hearing will be held on 73 contested delegates.

Two candidates thus far have opened headquarters. National managers for Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover have mobilized part of a large staff. Local managers for former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois are whipping an organization into shape.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General, was one of the first of the 1,080 odd delegates to register. She is a delegate-at-large from California.

64 WOMEN DELEGATES

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—The women of America, constituting 49 per cent of the eligible electorate, will be represented at the 1928 Republican convention by less than 6 per cent of the delegates. Final returns from all states except West Virginia show a total of 64 Republican women delegates, in a total of 1,083 as compared to 120 with 111 votes, at Cleveland four years ago.

Women alternates this year will number 239, exclusive of West Virginia, as compared to 279 in 1924. This brings the number of women who will have seats in the convention hall up to 303, or about 15 per cent of the total representation. Four years ago 399 women were delegates or alternates.

Although several states have certified a large number of women alternates, Missouri having an almost wholly feminine alternate slate, fifteen states will send no women delegates, and five states, four territories and the District of Columbia will send no women at all, either delegates or alternates.

The states sending no women are predominantly western, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, South Dakota, in addition to South Carolina, whereas in 1924 they were chiefly southern, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama, together with Idaho.

Two states, Wisconsin and Louisiana, will have women delegates at the convention but no women alternates.

The highest total of women delegates for any state this year is six (Continued on page 2)

SENTIMENT IN WALL STREET IS AGAINST HOOVER

According to Word of Member Banking Firm Today

New York, June 2.—(AP)—The general sentiment in Wall Street is against the nomination of Herbert Hoover, Lewis F. Strauss of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, testified today before the Senate presidential campaign investigating committee.

Strauss, a former secretary to Hoover, made this statement when he was asked if his firm had made any contribution to the Hoover-for-President fund. While his own banking house gave no money, Strauss said he personally had raised around $30,000 for the commerce secretary's campaign fund.

He said Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Company, had contributed $10,000; Henry I. Moses, a New York attorney, $2,500 and V. E. Macy, of New York, $2,000. Strauss told the committee he had sent some of the money to the Washington Hoover headquarters and that he still had some on hand. He was directed to furnish a complete list of contributions and expenditures.

Reception Rally of Endeavorers Sunday

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Christian Endeavorers of Dixon and Lee county will unite in a "Reception Rally" to be held at Grace Evangelical church. The new secretary of the Illinois C. E. Union, F. P. Wilson, of Chicago, will be the guest of honor and the chief speaker. The Rev. E. Brandt will direct the song service and Wayne Bowser of Dixon, Lee county president, will preside. Mr. Wilson has served in his present position eight months, but this will be his first visit to Dixon. In the morning he will speak in two or three local churches, giving brief messages concerning young people's work as directed through the Endeavorer union organizations. Following the afternoon program at Grace church a picnic supper will be served at the church and from 6:30 to 7:15 a union prayer meeting, led by Olive Palmer and Wayne Bowser, will be held.

Passenger Train Wrecked by Storm

St. Albans, Vt., June 2.—(AP)—One man was killed and ten were injured, three seriously, when a Canadian Pacific passenger train was struck by a tornado today between Stanbridge and Bedford, Que., 20 miles north of here.

Three passenger coaches were thrown down an embankment but the engine remained on the rails. Help was sent from Farnham.

The tornado started at Pike River and swept through to Mystic, a distance of six miles, leaving a trail of wrecked barns and houses in a path two acres wide.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Youngman of Rockford spent Memorial Day with the former's mother, Mrs. S. W. Youngman.

GRADUATES OF DIXON H. S. ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Exercises were Held Last Evening at Assembly Auditorium

A class of 85 young men and women of Dixon and vicinity completed their high school duties last evening and were graduated, receiving their diplomas at the conclusion of a fine program in the auditorium at the Assembly park last evening. While the class of graduates was smaller than some former classes of other years, the exercises which marked the closing of their school lives did not lack in enthusiasm and the services were attended by an exceptionally large number of persons.

Rev. B. H. Cleaver, pastor of the Christian church pronounced the invocation opening the program and the girls' glee club sang, "Water-Lilies" by Linders. Miss Margaret Cleaver, president of the north side graduating class, in a masterful manner, recited an oration, "A Chair for the New Home." Her theme bespoke much preparation and her delivery was exceptional. Robert Caldwell followed with his oration, the subject of which was "Forest Preservation." His delivery was excellent, holding the interest of his listeners, and discussing a subject which is of national importance. Because of their excellence The Telegraph will publish these orations Monday. The boys' glee club sang, "Monarch of the Woods" by Cherry, which closed the first section of the program.

Pittsburgh Man Spoke

Superintendent I. B. Potter, who acted as chairman of the program, then introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Dr. Jesse H. White, professor and head of the department of psychology of the University of Pittsburgh, of Pittsburgh, Pa. His subject was very appropriate to the occasion "Making Dreams Come True." In his remarks he said in part:

"I wish to congratulate the parents, teachers, and citizens of Dixon and vicinity for this fine class of graduates."

No Money for Grand Jury Probe in Cook

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—Principals appeared confident of their ability to push a special grand jury investigation of election frauds and violence in Chicago but there still is no indication that the county commissioners will vote money for the effort.

Failure of five members of the commission to attend meetings where the appropriation was discussed brought an assertion today from a reform organization leader that State's Attorney Crowe is attempting to make the investigation ineffectual.

OHIO COACH TO QUIT

Columbus, O., June 2.—(AP)—Dr. J. W. Wiley, for 14 years coach of Ohio State University's football teams, returned today to enter the practice of medicine and teaching. The resignation will be effective June, 1929.

101 RESIDENTS MELROSE PARK WERE INDICTED

Wholesale Violations Prohibition Law are Charged

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—One of the most comprehensive indictments in the history of prohibition enforcement in Illinois was returned by the federal grand jury yesterday. It named 101 persons of Melrose Park, a suburb, and charged the operation of an alcohol ring so large that its profits in one year ran as high as five million dollars.

Among those indicted were Gus H. Bohlander, village president; Anthony Palma, a trustee; and Joe Montana, described as leader of the combine.

The government charged that 119 stills were found operating in the community of 10,000 persons.

All the stills seized were found to have been of uniform make, a fact interpreted as indicating one single source supplied them. Village officers were charged with having conspired with leaders of the syndicate, allowing them the use of an unlimited supply of city water for cooling the stills at a cost of $40. So extensive were the operations of the syndicate, it was charged, that at times the city's water supply was crippled.

Let Contracts for Lee Co. Road Work

The letting of contracts for resurfacing and graveling of roads in Lee county attracted a large crowd of contractors to Dixon Thursday. Considerable of the work to be done this summer was let as follows:

Amboy township—Albert Keyes, Amboy.

Ashton township—Leslie Beach, Ashton.

Brooklyn township—Leonard Depp, Lee Center.

Harmon township—Frank Johnson, Dixon.

Marion township—Albert Keyes, Amboy.

Nachusa township—DeWitt Warner, Oregon.

Sublette township—C. A. Ulrich, Franklin Grove.

The contracts for work in Viola and Nelson townships were held up temporarily and for Hamilton township all bids were rejected. Where contracts were let, work is to be started as early as possible, the work to be completed by September first. A number of gravel roads will be resurfaced while others will be built under this program.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Byers and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hall left by auto today for an extended tour. They will visit the southwestern states, going into Mexico, then up the Pacific coast to the Canadian Rockies, returning home in September.

O. T. Gylleck, wife and mother of Grand Haven, Mich., former residents of Dixon, stopped here for a few hours this morning to visit with friends.

MANY MEETINGS HELD; ACTION AT CONVENTION PLAN

Determined Assault on Delegates at K. C. is Contemplated

BULLETIN

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—A committee was named today at a meeting of prominent republicans interested in farm relief to prepare resolutions to be submitted to a second meeting of farm relief advocates at Kansas City on June 9.

If the resolutions are approved at the second meeting, they will be taken before the Republican National convention three days later as these groups farm relief program and a request will be made that whatever action is decided on be incorporated in the Republican platform.

The committee to prepare the resolutions is composed of Senator James E. Watson of Indiana; Governor Adam McMullen of Nebraska; and George Peek of Moline, Ill., who represented farm organizations at Washington sponsoring the McNary-Haugen bill vetoed by the President.

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—The farmer-protest movement, crystallized by the presidential veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, concentrated its leaders here today to plan its assault June 12 upon the Republican National Convention at Kansas City.

The announced objectives of the movement were two; first, the nomination by the Republicans of a middle-westerner, and second, a Republican party pledge to make the tariff effective on farm products.

Chairmen of the general committee in 14 states had been called for today's meeting, which was arranged by M. J. Tobin of Clinton, Ia., an active supporter of the Presidential candidacy of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois. The movement embraces supporters of Lowden, and Senators Watson of Indiana and Curtis of Kansas.

Gov. Adam McMullen of Nebraska, who has been a leader in urging emphatic measures for carrying the farmer protest before the Republican convention, said his plan of a farmer caravan moving on the convention city has brought him thousands of letters promising support and participation.

Arrange for Tents

Three circus main tops, he said, have been arranged for, and will be raised in Kansas City next week to accommodate the farmer caravans. Parking sites have been provided, he added, both in Kansas City, Mo., and in Kansas City, Kas.

While the Chicago meeting was attracting many of the leaders in the protest movement, the Corn Belt Federation at Des Moines, Ia., indicated through its chairman, William Hirth of Columbia, Mo., that the corn belt would "go to Houston" if the republicans failed to satisfy farmer demands both as to platform and candidate.

Gov. McMullen, who plans to start a radio campaign next Tuesday to tell the country of the farmer protest plans, said the proposed demonstration is to be one of a "conservative, substantial middle west, which in years past has been a mainstay of the republican party."

Nothing Extreme

"There is nothing rabid, extremist or revolutionary about this farm movement," Gov. McMullen said. "It is a movement of conservatively-minded voters who want the same protection which is now given to industry extended to agriculture."

"The middle western farmers want a middlewestern man nominated who has sympathetic understanding of their problems. There are plenty of good candidates here—Lowden, Vice-President, Dawes, Senator Curtis, Senator Watson and others."

"A mere platform pledge is not enough. The farmers want a man favorable to them, who knows their interests. Long ago they lost interest in party pledges as such."

The Nebraska Governor said indications were the outpouring of farmers' will be between 100,000 and 150,000.

Plan Plane Supply Base in Greenland

Copenhagen, June 2.—(AP)—The newspaper Politiken says that definite plans have been made for fixing a supply station in Greenland for the use of Richard Hassel on a proposed flight from Rockford to Stockholm in July and a reported flight by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh from New York to London next autumn.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh told The Associated Press several days ago that he had no plans to make a Trans-Atlantic flight this year.

Miss Mary Ann Young left this afternoon for her home at Edgerton, Wisconsin, after finishing the past semester teaching at the south side high school.

Mrs. Blum and Miss Ford Entertain

Last evening at the home of Mrs. Otto Blum in Ashton, Miss Julia Ford of Dixon and Mrs. Blum entertained at bridge honoring Miss Anna Wood, a most popular bride-to-be of this season, her marriage to Mr. Clausen of Sterling to take place soon.

Last evening yellow and orchid were the colors emphasized in flowers and decorations for the enjoyable event, peonies and iris and yellow daisies combining in a most artistic and beautiful result.

At bridge Miss Madelon Coover was presented the favor for high score, Miss Martha Meppen received the second favor; and Miss Eva Peterson received the consolation favor. Miss Wood was presented with a charming guest favor. There were guests for three tables. Tempting refreshments were served.

Luncheon for Miss Parker at Necedah

Thursday afternoon at 1:30 Mrs. Lester Wilhelm entertained the girls of the Episcopal choir with a luncheon up the river at Necedah Lodge in honor of Miss Helen Parker, whose marriage to John Hoon of Chicago, was celebrated at high noon today. Miss Parker has been a member of the Episcopal choir for a number of years.

The decorations were in the delicate wild rose pink and wild pink roses were the dainty blossoms used on the table. After luncheon the beautiful surroundings at Necedah and the river were explored and a most delightful time experienced by all. Those present being Miss Parker, the gift of a lovely green banded bowl in the new glass, banded with gold, for a table centerpiece, and as a wedding gift a friend added the candlesticks to match, making a most beautiful and desirable gift.

Miss Hofman Was Hostess at Tea

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal, cream, baked omelet, oven toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Open toasted sandwiches, radishes, strawberries, vanilla cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Planked calf's liver, new cabbage and beet salad, snow pudding, milk, coffee.

The planked dish includes potatoes and stuffed peppers or tomatoes, so extra vegetables are not suggested. The open sandwiches in the luncheon menu suggest an excellent way to use up left-over meats. In this instance the mutton from the preceding dinner is used.

Open Toasted Sandwiches

One cup finely chopped meat, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 2 or 3 tablespoons milk, 4 rounds of toast, 4 slices tomatoes, 4 teaspoons minced parsley.

Carefully remove every bit of skin, bone or gristle from meat before chopping. Melt butter in frying pan, add onion finely minced and cook until a golden straw color. Add curry powder and cook and stir over the fire for three minutes. Add meat and milk and simmer over a slow fire while toasting the bread. Brush over each slice of tomato with melted butter and broil on both sides. Put a slice of broiled tomato on each round of toast and pile the meat mixture on the tomatoes. Put into hot oven to heat thoroughly and sprinkle with parsley. Serve at once.

Fish or chicken is good when used this way.

Short Interviews With Famous Women

By NEA Service—

More and better exercise is the health advice of Mrs. Charles H. Hopper, champion American fencer who will represent America at the Olympic Games this summer.

"Exercise keeps a person clean mentally and physically," she asserted.

"Especially if one does creative mental work, physical exercise is a much-needed counter-balance."

"Of all exercise, it seems to me fencing is the perfect one. It has beauty, health and grace as its possibilities. And it is the one place in this hectic life where old-world courtesy plays an essential part."

"Good form is one of the first rules of fencing. I often have thought that if children were taught fencing, their manners would take care of themselves, for fencing would teach them the importance of 'good form'."

"Fencing has other tremendous advantages. It appeals to the mentally quick as well as the physically agile. Fencing combines the exertion of a game like tennis with the joy of matching wits as in a game of chess."

"Other exercises have their good points, but I believe fencing has been overlooked as an ideal exercise for the growing child. For skill in fencing learned in youth brings joy throughout life."

Junior-Senior Banquet Was Happy Event

On Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple the Junior-Senior banquet for 1928 was held and the members of the faculty were invited and attended. The White Shrine serving a most delicious banquet, the tables being beautifully decorated with flowers of the early summer, iris, bridal wreath, etc. This is always a gala night for both Juniors and Seniors and Thursday night proved no exception.

After the banquet the following program, entitled Highways and Byways, was given:

Director of Traffic—James Ketchin

Educational Highways—Mr. Potter

Trail Number D. H. S.—Mr. Lancaster

Trail No. 2—Robert Girndt

Trail No. 4—Bernice Leland

Byways—Ruth Leydig

Each one responded to his or her name on the program in a most interesting manner and Mr. Potter and Mr. Lancaster each gave inspirational talks.

After the program and banquet dancing was enjoyed to good music, and the delightful event drew to a happy close.

To Visit Montreal; Then to Go Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Towne of Evanston, Ill., formerly Helen Lamm of Franklin Grove, will go to Montreal June 25th, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davis and will visit the new chapter of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

June 25th they will leave on a trip abroad, on the S. S. Letitia, with Professor and Mrs. Lardner's party from Northwestern University, sailing from Montreal.

RONALD GEARY TO SING SUNDAY MORNING

Ronald Geary will sing "Lord God of Abraham" from Elijah at St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday morning.

Beautiful June Wedding Solemnized At High Noon Today

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at high noon today at St. Patrick's Catholic church. Reverend Father Michael Foley officiating at the sacred rites. Miss Helen Frances Parker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Parker, 703 Peoria avenue, and John V. Hoon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoon, 510 E. Fellows street, were married in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. The beautiful church was decorated in palms and ferns.

A most inspiring program of music was given before and during the bridal ceremony. Mrs. Lester Wilhelm, accompanied at the organ by Clifford Fahney, sang beautifully, preceding the ceremony, "Because," and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Marion Cahill sang sweetly, Cadman's "At Dawning" and "Ave Maria," by Gounod. Miss Cahill was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Wayne Smith, who played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party proceeded to the altar, and during the ceremony she played a program of lovely nuptial music.

The bride was attended by Miss Esther Barton as maid of honor and the bridegroom was attended by Atty. Edward Jones as best man.

The attractive bride never appeared more beautiful than today, her wedding day, and made a charming picture in her lovely gown of rose blue chiffon over coral satin. Her French picture hat was of rose color and her hose, slippers and all accessories were ecostume. She carried an arm bouquet of tea roses and lilacs of the valley.

Miss Barton wore a charming frock of green chiffon over green satin, with a picture hat in green of the same shade, her slippers, hose and accessories, all matching. Her flowers were tea roses and pink sweet peas, an arm bouquet.

After the impressive marriage ceremony as the bridal couple and attendants left the altar, Mrs. Smith, the organist, played the joyful Mendelssohn Wedding March.

Afterward at the Colonial Inn in Grand Detour a wedding collation was served to about fifty guests, relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The delightful and commodious dining room at the Colonial Inn was gay with flowers and candles for the wedding feast. Colors of orchid and yellow were beautifully combined in decorating for the happy event, the purple iris and yellow roses and candles gracing the tables, while huge bouquets of garden flowers in these shades graced the rooms.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Hoon left their wedding friends and started on their sojourn trip, not however, revealing one tiny bit of information as to their plans, nor destination. They will be at home after June 12th at 308 Washington Boulevard, Oak Park, where they will be glad to greet their friends.

Mrs. Hoon's traveling costume is a modish green sport tweed, with hat harmonizing.

The bride of today has been a teacher in the Dixon public schools for a number of years. She is a graduate of Dixon high school and also of the DeKalb State Teachers College. She is a charming girl and among her attractions, possesses a beautiful voice. She has hosts of friends who wish her every happiness. Mr. Hoon is a Dixon boy, also a graduate of Dixon high school, and he attended Iowa State College at Ames, Ia. He is now employed in the Chicago office of the Sandusky Cement Co. He is highly regarded by friends and associates and has always been very popular in Dixon in many circles of friends. All join in wishing the young people every happiness.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were included Mrs. T. T. Barlow of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Parker and Mildred Parker of Gilman, Ill.; Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Parker and Jane Parker of Sterling; and Miss Dollie Fauth of Prophetstown.

June Weddings of Interest in Washington

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—June weddings are serving to keep Washington society from complete stagnation following the close of Congress.

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Chamberlain, daughter of Major General and Mrs. John Loomis Chamberlain to Frederick Moffat Bradley takes place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. John's Church on Lafayette Square, the Rev. Dr. Robert Johnson, rector of the church, officiating. General Chamberlain will escort his daughter and give her in marriage.

She will wear a lovely costume of cream white satin trimmed in rose pink lace, the wedding gown of her mother, with a train cut as part of the dress, completely covered with the full tulle veil arranged with point lace and a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Helen Welsh Tiers of Philadelphia is maid of honor, and her costume is one of plane green chiffon, with a horsehair hat, wide of brim, exactly matching in color and showing a band of velvet.

A small reception at the home of General and Mrs. Chamberlain on Jefferson Place is to follow the ceremony.

Mr. Bradley and his bride will make their home in Washington. Mr. Bradley is the son of the late Thomas Bradley, the family being identified with Washington since its earliest history.

The day also boasted another fashionable wedding, that of Miss Caroline Thom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corcoran Thom, to Major Robert Togrow Walsh, Air Corps, U. S. A., at noon in St. Matthew's church. Blossoms of the season, principally large white peonies and gladioli in a setting of palms and ferns gave a June atmosphere to the stately interior of the edifice, and the brides were marked off with standards of flowers.

The bride's gown was an artistic combination of white tulle, bouffant in effect, and rare old lace, the long and full veil of tulle was becomingly arranged with the lace to fit the head closely, and two wide panels of rare lace fell to the hem of the tulle veil, forming a train.

The gowns of the attendants were quite French in suggestion, the maid of honor, Miss Margery Eustis, daughter of Mrs. William Corcoran Eustis, a cousin of the bride, wearing shell pink tulle, the skirt bouffant and trimmed with bands of ribbon in the same shade. Her wide brimmed hat of horsehair braid was quaintly trimmed with ribbon and her bouquet was of pink roses.

The Rev. Father Buckley, rector of St. Matthew's church was asked to perform the ceremony, the bride being escorted to the altar by her father.

The wedding party, members of the families, out-of-town guests and a few others were invited to a wedding breakfast after the ceremony.

Major Walsh is stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Beginning with tomorrow the diplomats will follow in the wake of members of Congress and lie themselves away from capital, the Senators and Representatives going to their respective districts or as many of them as have completed their tasks at the capital. The dean of the diplomatic corps, Sir Esme Howard, Ambassador of Great Britain, will quit the capital with considerable of a flourish, giving a dinner tonight to celebrate the birthday anniversary of King George, and tomorrow leaving King George, the corner stone for the new British embassy. He will sail for England the first of the week.

The German embassy is also in the same locality, the secretary of the legation and Frau Leitner, leaving tomorrow to join other members of the staff.

The Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. William M. Jardine and their family will leave Washington early next week and will motor to Kansas City. They will remain there until after the convention and perhaps longer.

The capital is to have a two days orchid exhibition at the Hotel Washington, June 6-7, and one of the most enthusiastic attendants will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. The show will be under the patronage of the American Horticultural Society and exhibitors will be from New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

The late President Wilson did his wooing with orchids, several times a week sending Irving Hoover, head usher at the White House, to a florist for a corsage bouquet for his bride-elect and she was never seen without the flowers while mistress of the White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt is the only other mistress of the White House known to claim the orchid as a favorite, and hundreds of the rarest flowers grown in the Philippines were brought to Washington in her husband's administration and placed in the old conservatory that at that time stood at the west end of the White House.

Amboy Girl Became Bride on Thursday

Elizabeth Schamberger of Amboy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schamberger, became the bride of Dr. M. C. Grainger of Terre Haute, Indiana, in a quiet double ring ceremony Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the home of Rev. Dean Ferguson, pastor of the United Brethren church, near Youngstown, Indiana. Mrs. Herman Mason, a niece of the groom, was matron of honor, while Mr. Mason acted as best man.

The bride was charming in a dress of pink georgette crepe with accessories to match, and wore a bridal corsage. Mrs. Mason was dressed in pink silk and wore a corsage of sweet peas and roses.

Mrs. Grainger graduated from the Palmer School of Chiropractic of Davenport, Iowa in 1926 and has been in practice since that time. Dr. M. C. Grainger is a graduate of the Rose college of Chiropractic of Fort Wayne, Indiana, and has been in practice in Terre Haute for the past six years.

Dr. and Mrs. Grainger are at home to their friends at 439 North 9th St., Terre Haute, Indiana.

uates of your high school, and to the members of this class, I desire to say at this time, that the citizens of this community have four things in mind which they expect of you as you leave your school duties to face the tasks of life.

"The citizens of Dixon, your adults have developed the natural resources of this community. They launched the task, then put their shoulders to the wheel and worked together for your welfare and developed this beautiful community. Do you realize what it means to put your shoulder to the wheel and build on as your adults, your parents have done, a community such as this? You possess a wonderful natural beauty in your community which is alone to be found here and has been developed. Do you realize that in a very few years it will be your duty to take up this task of development and build your city and community? You are in the natural beauty spot of the world. You need never to leave this beauty spot to make your dreams come true. Here, you are offered and find those things which make for a successful life and you need not seek elsewhere. This is the first of the four things which make dreams come true.

"Second: Many of your adults, your parents and seniors have never had the opportunity you have had. They have gained what you are enjoying today, but have accomplished this by the hard experiences of life. How fortunate for that boy or girl who follows the advice of a mother, a father or some adult who has experienced these experiences.

"Third: The older people of Dixon and vicinity fully realize that the greatest asset of the day is its young people. Your elders have prepared this beautiful place for you to take up the responsibilities which make for the success and further development of the resources of the resources of this locality.

"Fourth: These elders have placed their belief in you boys and girls, members of this graduating class. They have selected a beautiful location, they have developed it and it is yours. You say to me, what shall we do? I will try to answer your question. Observe men and women and see if my answer is right and then try it for yourselves.

Offers No Panacea
"I have no patent device; I offer no panacea; I cannot tell you how to make your dreams come true. There is no man or woman who can tell the members of this class how to dream, what to dream or how to make these dreams come true. Let us picture in our minds four classes of dreamers. First we have those who are continuous dreamers but never put their dreams into execution. Second, we have the dreamer of dreams which never fit the fact. Napoleon and the ex-kaiser of Germany were dreamers of this type. They dreamed that they could conquer the world but their dreams did not fit the fact and they did not succeed. Third, we have the matter of fact dreamer. The great walk of American life today is dependent on this class of dreamer. He selects a lot, builds a home, rears a family, and to him is attributed the success of the country even if he does fail to attract the attention of the world. Then we have the fourth class, the Lindeberg type of dreamers who have dreamed dreams which have attracted the attention of the world and have the admiration of all.

"Members of this class, which class of dreamers are you going to belong to? I would advise you to try for type number three, then if you prepare yourself well you will be ready to jump into class four when the opportunity presents itself.

Must Be Ready
"Don't try to do the spectacular thing, but be ready when opportunity knocks at your door."

"What does one need to be a dreamer? You need to know what to dream and then carry that dream out. You need education first. This you have to all about anything. This is but the first one of your commencements, you have many ahead of you. You need physical stamina and your health now will determine the life and vigor of your service. Education and health both count in making dreams come true. Pay the price for what you get. I trust that there is not a member of this class who is going to look for an easy job. Don't make a mistake of this kind. Work as if playing a game and then lastly when you work, when you dream, do it in such a way that you can have self respect. Put your conscience into your work. You boys and girls of this fine class of graduates have wonderful opportunities facing you and the laws of the universe are going to reward those who are worthy or exact the penalties from those who are deserving."

Supt. I. B. Potter distributed the diplomas to the members of the graduating class and the program closed with the benediction which was pronounced by Rev. A. Turley Stephenson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

HEALTH DIET ADVICE*Dr. Frank McCoyWhy the Diet May be Health*

QUESTIONS TO BE ANSWERED BY DR. FRANK MCCOY, D. M. D., IN HIS COLUMN ON THE DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH, SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 2, 1928.

Or, McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, June 3.

Sunday
Breakfast—Eggs poached in milk, served on Melba toast, stewed figs.
Lunch—Boiled new potatoes, with parsley, asparagus, salad of head lettuce.

Dinner—Baked chicken, shredded wheat dressing, buttered beets, spinach, salad of raw celery, pineapple sponge.

Monday
Breakfast—Crisp waffle, with a little maple syrup, one egg, apple sauce.

Lunch—Pint of buttermilk, 10 or 12 dates, chicken left over from Sunday.
Dinner—Minced chicken in tomato jelly, cooked carrots and fresh peas, cooked greens, custard.

Tuesday
Breakfast—Whole wheat muffins with peanut butter, stewed prunes.

Lunch—Stewed tomatoes (left over from last night), baked egg plant, salad of raw spinach.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, roast beef, string beans, mashed turnips, salad of grated raw carrots on lettuce, peach whip.

Wednesday
Breakfast—French omelet, Melba toast, stewed raisins.

Lunch—Oranges as desired.
Dinner—Broiled fillet of sole, green peas, McCoy salad (tomatoes, cucumbers and lettuce), no dessert.

Thursday
Breakfast—Berries (canned, and drained of all sugary juice) with cream. All desired.

Lunch—Baked or boiled potato, cooked lettuce, ripe olives.

Dinner—Roast mutton, baked ground beets and carrots, molded vegetable salad (peas, boiled beets and celery), ice cream.

Friday
Breakfast—Baked eggs, re-toasted shredded wheat biscuit, pear sauce.

Lunch—Raw apples as desired with handful of pecan meats.

Dinner—Baked sea bass, cooked asparagus, salad of sliced tomatoes, jelly, no cream.

Saturday
Breakfast—Cottage cheese, pineapple, re-toasted biscuit.

Lunch—Spaghetti, boiled in plain water and seasoned only with butter, string beans, raw celery.

Dinner—Roast pork, cooked spinach, steamed carrots salad of shredded raw cabbage, and parsley, apricot whip.

Minced Chicken in Tomato Jelly: Drain, but do not strain two cups of juice from a large can of tomatoes. Pour into a saucepan and heat to almost boiling point. Have ready one envelope of plain gelatin which has been softened with a little cold water. Dip up some of the tomato juice and stir into the gelatin until thoroughly dissolved, then mix all together and set in a cool place until the juice begins to thicken. Now, mix in one cupful of minced chicken, one-third cupful each of chopped celery, parsley and ripe olives. Pour into wet molds and place in the refrigerator until meal time. Serve unmolded on crisp lettuce. This amount is sufficient for four persons, and forms the protein part of the meal. Any left-over roast, such as beef, pork or mutton, may be prepared in the same manner and found very appetizing.

More DANGER IN NOT REDUCING

Many women are frightened against reducing by statements of supposed authorities that dieting to take off weight is weakening and brings on serious consequences, like tuberculosis. My private opinion is that many of these "experts" have never dieted a patient.

I have observed and conducted thousands of cases of reducing and I do not know of any fat woman who has been injured by limiting the amount of food below that which she was accustomed to eating. The only possible danger that I know of would be for her to reduce too much below normal on a diet that is deficient in alkaline-forming elements or vitamins. It is impossible that if she reduced on white bread and sugar exclusively that her system would be unduly affected. This danger is entirely avoided if the fresh fruits or non-starchy vegetables are predominant in the anti-fat menu. I believe that protein should also be added when the weight is about its normal. Starches, sugars and fats may be entirely dispensed with for all fat people.

It is advisable that patients who reduce should receive sufficient exercise to maintain the muscular tone of their bodies. Long daily walks are of undoubted value, especially because they cause the body to absorb a larger supply of oxygen to assist in consuming any clogging waste matter in the muscles and tissues.

I received many inquiries about the use of certain glandular extracts for reducing, but I have never found them either advisable or necessary. Possibly much of the talk about the dangers of reducing has originated in those cases where too much of these secretions were employed.

It is a well known fact that after thirty a person has a much better chance of long life if he is thin. There is not much satisfaction in eating heartily just to fill an oversized casket.

Contrary to the prevailing idea of many people, fat has no connection with health. The proper weight for the best mental and physical vigor is often far below the patient's ideal, and it can only be determined by careful observation, considering the temperament, muscles and bony framework. One cannot determine the correct weight by the height and age alone.

The best rapid method of reducing is to employ the citrus fruit fast, using only these fruits or their juices and water. In this manner the weight will reduce from one half to two pounds daily, with a marked improvement in all physical and mental functions.

This increase of energy is due to freeing the body of any burden of encumbrances. Ordinary occupations may be followed throughout the fast. This is not impossible, and I have known a number of cooks and chefs who reduced while in continual contact with food. It was necessary for them to refrain from even tasting food during the reducing period.

The diet following the fast should be carefully selected to provide the proper amount of protein and green vegetables. One can live on this diet indefinitely. The carbohydrates and fats should only be introduced very gradually after the patient has completely overcome the tendency to obesity.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
QUESTION: F. M. asks: "How is it so many of my friends have gout? I thought it was caused by drinking alcoholic beverages, but since prohibition that cause should be almost entirely removed."

ANSWER: Gout is a form of rheumatism and is caused by the rheumatic toxemia which comes from over-eating, over-drinking, and using wrong kinds of food and in improper combinations.

QUESTION: Mary H. writes: "I read in your column that milk should not be used with sandwiches. When should milk be used?"

ANSWER: Never use milk with sandwiches. Milk should be taken by itself or combined with one kind of fruit or with the non-starchy vegetables.

QUESTION: Mrs. N. G. H. writes: "Do you know where I can get the new dress material which permits the ultra-violet rays of the sun to penetrate to the skin?"

ANSWER: You probably refer to the material called celanese or cellulose acetate product which some manufacturers have been experimenting with. So far as I know none of this material has been put on the market.

QUESTION: Mother asks: "Do you think it harmful to children to use scooters? I have heard that they caused one leg to be shorter than the other."

ANSWER: If a child can be made to change from one foot to the other while running a scooter it should be very beneficial exercise but one-sided exercise for children encourages a faulty position of the pelvis, and spinal curvature.

QUESTION: Mrs. G. H. writes: "I am 35 years of age. My symptoms are terrible backache, pain down my left side, especially below the heart, also in my left arm. On arising I feel as though I had passed through a bad illness; I am so weak and tired I would like to stay in bed all day. Of late I am troubled with constipation, for the first time in my life, with a slight attack of itching piles."

ANSWER: The pains in your left arm and side probably come from gas pressure against your heart. This would make you feel tired in the morning. Try a course of enemas for a month, using two enemas daily. In the meantime, correct your diet so that it is not gas-forming, and after the month's treatment with internal bathing, I am sure your constipation will be overcome and the itching will disappear.

QUESTION: S. H. asks: "May spinach be eaten without first cooking it?"

ANSWER: You require the advice of a good psychoanalyst. Until you find one, try to get interested in constructive thinking and concentrate your mind on something which will be helpful to others.

Eight Died in Fire in Kansas in Night

Covert, Kans., June 1.—(AP)—Alfred Kaser, his wife and their six children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Kaser farm home, 2½ miles northeast of here late last night. When discovered by neighbors the fire was past control. The charged bodies of the eight victims were recovered from the ruins. Origin of the fire was not determined. A coroner's inquest was called for today.

Kaser was 32 years old and his wife 30. The children were Raymond, 12; Alberta, 10; Iona, 8; Margaret, 6; Alvin, 4; and Katie Lee, 2.

H. A. Moore and Ray Cronk, both of Covert, were returning to their home from Osborne, 18 miles northeast of Covert, when they discovered the fire. They immediately notified citizens here and a call was sent out over the rural telephone line, summoning the entire neighborhood.

As soon as the dying embers had cooled sufficiently neighbors entered the ruins. They found the bodies of the entire family on what remained of their beds, with the exception of the father. His body was lying in the ruins near where a door to the house had been located.

The house was a two-story structure and all the family were reported to have been sleeping on the second floor.

This IS a Sale!

Without a name BUT look at these Values!

DEAR FOLKS:—

Our manager, Mr. Sargent, will be in Chicago, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, attending a convention of Spurgeon's managers, and having a good time.

We expect to have a good time also while he is away, so decided to have a SALE ALL OUR OWN. We do not know what to call it, so are letting it go without a name.

We are not mentioning all the bargains we are offering in this ad, because many of them are in small quantities and anyway we know you will be here, if at all possible, to see them and help us "put over" a real sale.

Where great performance is Master Indeed!

Its performance has centered on Hudson the most dramatic public interest ever extended any car. Thousands, riding daily, are carrying the story world-wide.

They tell us that they travel faster in city traffic, because of flashing getaway, swift, smooth acceleration and instantaneous control that easy steering and four-wheel braking give.

This extra range and activity of Hudson power, as everyone knows, are advantages exclusive to the Super-Six principle and to its companion invention on which patents recently were granted.

In every phase of performance there is effortless ease, from its smooth, swift getaway, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. Power is so smoothly delivered in all ranges of performance that you are scarcely conscious of it.

With the development and increased capacity of the Super-Six principle came also the creation of a chassis engineered in every detail to provide safely, continuously and economically for the speed, power and safety of the motor.

A thrill, never to be forgotten, is in store for you when you take your first ride in the new Hudson Super-Six.

FRANKLIN GROVE NEWS NOTES

Franklin Grove—The school exhibit which was held Thursday in the school building, was well attended by the parents and patrons as well. This exhibit is positive proof to the community of the untiring efforts which have been put forth by teacher and pupils alike to make this year's school term the very success that it has been. In the first room where Miss Kathryn Emmert and her little tots have worked together so beautifully all year, were drawings and paintings of all sorts and description. Their daily written work was also posted for inspection. It seemed only natural that all the visitors returned to the primary room for another look, for certainly the teacher and her pupils have made wonderful advancements this school year.

The second room, taught by Mrs. George Spanler, was a regalia of advanced work for grade students on exhibit. Many words of praise were heard for the teacher and pupils as well. It is with the deepest regret to both parents and teachers that Mrs. Spanler is unable to teach next year. The third room where Miss Laura Seals taught so faithfully for several years, was a part continuation of the art work, where colorful posters decorated the walls, water color and crayon paintings were also displayed to advantage. The final test of the graduating class were also on exhibit for inspection. It is regretted also that Miss Seals will not return this year as she will take a year's rest from school work. The exhibit work of the high school, while not so colorful, showed the constant effort of the pupils and their capable corps of teachers. This exhibit included the work of the manual training class, where had-made shelves, tables, lamps, library tables and other pieces of furniture were on display. Note books, illustrated booklets, drawings, compositions and map work were some of the main features of the written exhibit presented by the other classes of the high school.

The school as a whole, appreciate the interest shown by the patrons in visiting the exhibit, which was made possible by arduous labor, and feel that they were repaid for putting on the exhibit which has been omitted for a number of years. While it is with regret that Misses Edna Wolf, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Laura Seals and Mrs. Spanler find it impossible to return another year, yet the school board is to be commended on having again secured Supt. Hanson, Prof. Fox and Miss Emmert, who is considered one of the very best primary teachers that we have had in our school.

Commencement Exercises
The Methodist church was filled to its utmost capacity Friday night by the parents and patrons of the school to witness the Commencement exercises of the high school. The concert by the Community Orchestra was much appreciated. Miss Margaret Banker rendered a beautiful vocal solo. Dr. J. C. Brown, the President of the Northern Illinois Teachers' College at DeKalb, whose fame as an educator is extensive, gave a splendid address. Supt. Hanson, in a few well chosen words, presented the diplomas to the nineteen seniors, and afterward presented the diplomas to the eight pupils who had successfully completed the eighth grade work. The church was beautifully decorated the handiwork of the Junior class.

Mt. Morris College
Resignation of W. W. Peters as president of the Mt. Morris college and selection of Professor O. W. Neher as his successor has been announced by the board of trustees of the college.
By unanimous vote the board of trustees reconsidered all action taken toward closing the college at the conclusion of the year's work. This means that the summer session from June 11 to July 21, will be carried on. Friends of the college everywhere will be pleased to hear the famous old institution will continue. It has graduated many men and women who have attained eminence in various professions in life. It's class rooms and assembly hall holds memories very dear to all students. Franklin Grove feels justly proud of the newly elected President, Prof. Oscar Neher, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Neher and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Trostle of this place. While we can't just claim him as a real Franklin Grove boy, still we do feel honored that one of our midst has been thus honored in being chosen President of the Mount Morris College, and we join with his many friends in hearty congratulations and wish him success.

Iris Day To Be Observed
The Woman's Club is planning to observe next Wednesday, June 6 as Iris Day, by having bouquets of iris in each of the store windows on Main street. No prizes are offered, but it is hoped that anyone having iris will send some to help in the display. A great deal of interest is being manifested everywhere in the growth of the iris and the ladies are anxious to have as many varieties as possible. The plan is to have not more than two or three stalks of bloom to a bouquet, as the individual qualities of the flowers show much better in smaller numbers. Please send any blossoms you are willing to contribute to the committee at the Franklin Grove bank on Tuesday afternoon, and they will be placed in the store windows. Plan to come up town Wednesday and see the flowers.

Supt. and Mrs. H. B. Price of Morrison were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Senger.
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price of Rockford were Memorial Day visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senger.
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. H. Thornton very quietly celebrated their first wedding anniversary at their home Tuesday. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Thornton they were unable to take their usual anniversary trip. Mrs. Thornton is confined to her bed most of the time, although some days she is able to be at the table for a meal by being assisted to the table. Mr. Thornton is hale and hearty. Their friends are wishing with them for a speedy recovery to health for Mrs. Thornton and they they may enjoy many more anniversaries.

Memorial Day
As has been the custom for many years, Franklin Grove had a splendid Memorial Day program. The West Brooklyn Band was ready to play at one o'clock and at 1:30 the line of march starting at the Presbyterian church and marching to the cemetery where the past, the future and the graves of the departed soldiers. The line of march is always a most beautiful sight to witness. The program at the camp ground is worthy of special note, the fact being that those taking part in the program were of the teen age namely, Miss Jeannet Hussey who gave the reading "In Flanders Field" and Miss Marion Buck who gave the reading "The Answer". Master Clark Phillips gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. It seems only fitting that these young folks should begin to assume these responsibilities as in a few years they will be the ones to have charge of the Memorial Day program.

Rev. Chester Irvin, the speaker of the day gave a splendid address, one which was graciously received. The crowd was large. In fact everything was at its best and another Memorial Day has gone down in the minds of those in and around this community. For several years Memorial Day has been a "home coming" for Franklin Grove and many were the warm hand shakes enjoyed that day.

Obituary
Mrs. Sara E. Norris died at her home in Curwensville, Pa., May 15, 1928, aged 60 years, 11 months and 20 days, following an illness of about one week.

The deceased, a daughter of Thomas and Hannah Wall, was born on their homestead farm in Pennsylvania, Pa., May 16, 1858. Three children were born to this union James D., Elisha M. and the deceased. Both brothers preceded her in death.

March 10, 1872 she was united in marriage to Clark B. Norris. They started in life on a farm near Clearfield, Pa., and remained there three years. Then they purchased a farm near Curwensville, where they spent the remainder of their lives excepting twelve years spent in Franklin Grove. In early life the deceased became a member of the Methodist church of Curwensville. Truly her life was righteously lived, deserving of that "well done thou good and faithful servant" spoken from the throne of the Great Judge. As a wife and mother no woman could have been more sincere, more thoughtful more affectionate.

The deceased was a member of the Rebecca Lodge and Sesquehanna Grange No. 1145. She was the mother of eleven children, all of whom grew to maturity, but three preceding her in death. Wallace, who was killed in a mine in 1901 left two children, whom she mothered from that time on viz Clark B. of Sparks Nev. and Mrs. Arthur Eberhart of Chestnut, Ill. The other children are: Mrs. Charles Addeleman, Mrs. Charles Smith (deceased), Ralph, Thomas and Allen of Franklin Grove, Ill. Mrs. Norman Shaffer (deceased), Howard of Chestnut, Ill., Mrs. Roy Roger, Mrs. Warren George and John. Besides her children she leaves to mourn her great grandchildren, one half brother, Charles Wall and two half sisters, Mrs. Oscar Bloom and Mrs. Leona B. Donahue of Grampian, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Blaine and two daughters were guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. Sadie Blaine Memorial Day.

Team Wins Trophy
With Steward at their prey, the baseball trophy of the Green River Valley Conference for 1928 was won by the Franklin Grove high school, when the team defeated the Steward team 10 to 3 in the game played in the school yard Friday afternoon.

Junior Weigle piled a three-base drive with sacks full, thus accounting for four of the runs—all in a bunch. The local high school won the trophy for the year 1928, and would have received it last year had one been awarded by the conference. The trophies are on exhibit in the north window of the Reporter office. The honor thus brought to the local school should be appreciated by all the patrons of the school and residents of the community.

Field Day Meet
The Franklin Grove high school defeated Compton in a dual field day meet held here Wednesday afternoon the result being 50 1-2 to 48 1-2. The local school was the first in nine out of eleven events, while Compton took most of the seconds and thirds. Clark Phillips' time in the 100 yard dash was eleven seconds flat. Carl Sunday nearly threw the 8 pound shot out of the lot, with a throw of 35 1-2. Charles Hepler pole-vaulted 9 1-2 feet, thereby tying for first place. Herbert Ling, Clare Weybright and Charles Hunt also took first in their prospective events.

Night Watchman Ambler has a dog that he is justly proud of. He has had him in training about five weeks and Mr. Ambler says the dog will try all doors, open and close doors that are not locked, lay down and roll over at his command and do several other stunts. He located three hobs that were prowling around at 2:45 a. m. The dog is part police and part collie and only one year old.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cyr of Aurora were Memorial Day visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford.

OUR TREES
THE STOUT ASH
So strong is the ash tree that the Scandinavians who long regarded it sacred, recorded that the whole universe was supported by a mighty ash tree called Yggdrasil, which sprang from the body of the giant Ymir.

Today ash is of commercial importance because of its strength and stiffness. It is the favored material for agricultural tool handles and for vehicle construction. Because it is free from odor and taste ash is particularly well suited for food containers.

The ashes, of which there are four principal ones—the white, green, black and blue ash—grow throughout practically all of the eastern United States. Their favorite haunts are near the banks of mountain streams where they can lean gracefully over the water.

The ash will not grow in barren soil. Hence the old expression of our forefathers: "May your foot fall by the roots of the ash," meaning may you live in a fertile, well-watered land.

Wood of all four of the ashes is tough, straight-grained and pliable. That of the white ash is of great value in cabinet work. Most of the ashes take a good polish and are well adapted to making furniture. Black ash lumber divides easily into its annual layers. It is used extensively for barrel hoops, splint basket work and similar purposes.

About 22 per cent of the ash cut goes into handles of agricultural implements, 22 per cent is used for butter tubs, 10 per cent is used in vehicles. Other uses include planing mill products, refrigerators, kitchen cabinets, ladder rungs, tennis racquet frames and airplane frames.

Certain magical qualities were attributed to the ash in ancient days. It was firmly believed in Shakespeare's time, even among the learned, that a snake would escape through fire rather than through a barricade of ash. Babies suspended in their cradles from the branches of the ash were considered safe from harm while their mothers worked in the fields.

Greatest Shows on Earth

By HENRY W. LAWRENCE

THIS month there will be staged in Kansas City, Missouri, and Houston, Texas, those astonishing performances by which, every four years, are chosen the candidates for the presidency of the world's greatest republic.

Nothing quite like these huge nominating conventions has appeared in the history of any other country. If the founders of the United States of America could have foreseen them, they would surely have "viewed with alarm" such strange departures from the president-making procedure described in the Constitution.

George Washington, who deplored the very existence of political parties, may turn over in his grave every leap year in post mortem anxiety at the thought that such partisan monstrosities are choosing his successors.

The authentic ancestor of the present national nominating convention came on the scene 120 years ago. There is, however, very little family resemblance between this remote forefather and his present-day descendant.

This first national nominating convention for the presidency was held in 1808. It was conducted in deep secrecy. Only the opposition party newspapers mentioned it at all. Friendly papers kept it dark, as being not a proper subject for public attention.

Only the "best minds" were present in this convention. A few well-born and congenial gentlemen, who could afford the time and expense of travel, were chosen by their friends to settle in a quiet and leisurely manner the questions that agitated their party.

Until a few years ago, it was supposed that the Federalist convention of 1812 was the first of its kind, but this has been disproved by new material, a manuscript brought to light some time ago, which tells the story of the secret meeting of Federalist leaders in New York in 1808, mentioned above, that nominated Pinckney and King for the presidency and vice-presidency and served as a model for the convention of 1812.

THIS was the original national nominating convention; a strikingly undemocratic affair, based on the undisputed right of the leading men in the party to settle nominations and party business without the slightest co-operation of the people.

The voter's advice was not asked, but his implicit obedience was required. He was to vote for candidates nominated he knew not how, because it was thought best by, as a prominent man of that day put it, "those who alone, from education, fortune, character, and principle are entitled to command."

This secret party convention, representing only the leaders, passed out of existence with the Federalists in 1812.

It remained for Democratic politicians of the 1830's with improved methods of communication and fatter campaign chests, to discover that a national convention of delegates, chosen by the body of voters, was the most effective method of nominating a president.

It was not until 1860, however, that the national convention took on all those incredibly American features which have modernly entitled it to be called "the greatest show on earth."

P. T. Barnum's world-famous triumphs came a little later, imitating this, perhaps, but never equalling it. His show consisted merely of three circus rings and numerous adjacent side-shows, and it was inevitably surpassed by the nation's own show, containing one or more rings supplied by each of the states, plus unnumbered side-shows staged in 10,000 far-flung caucuses, primaries, and local conventions.

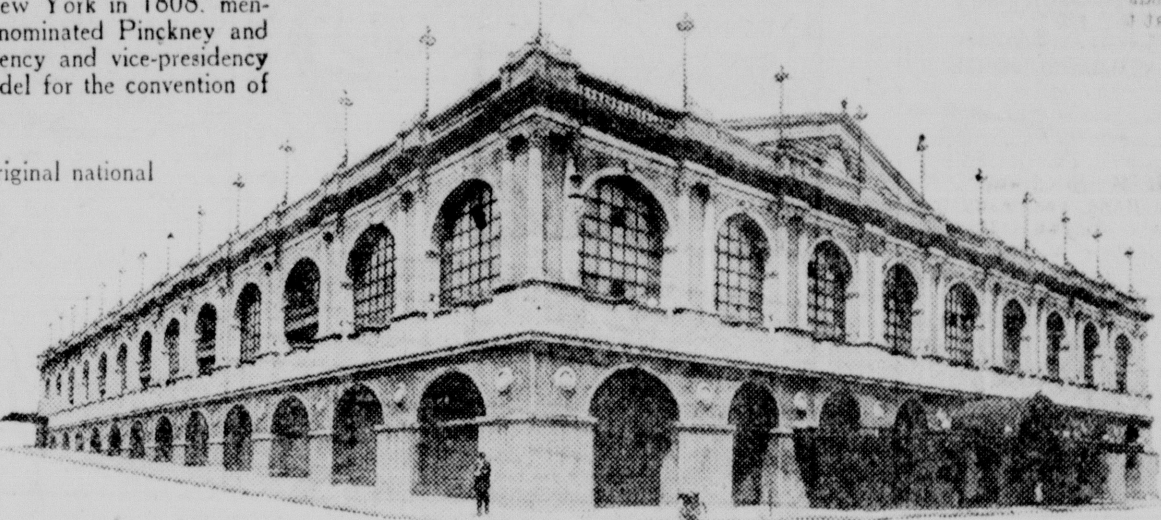

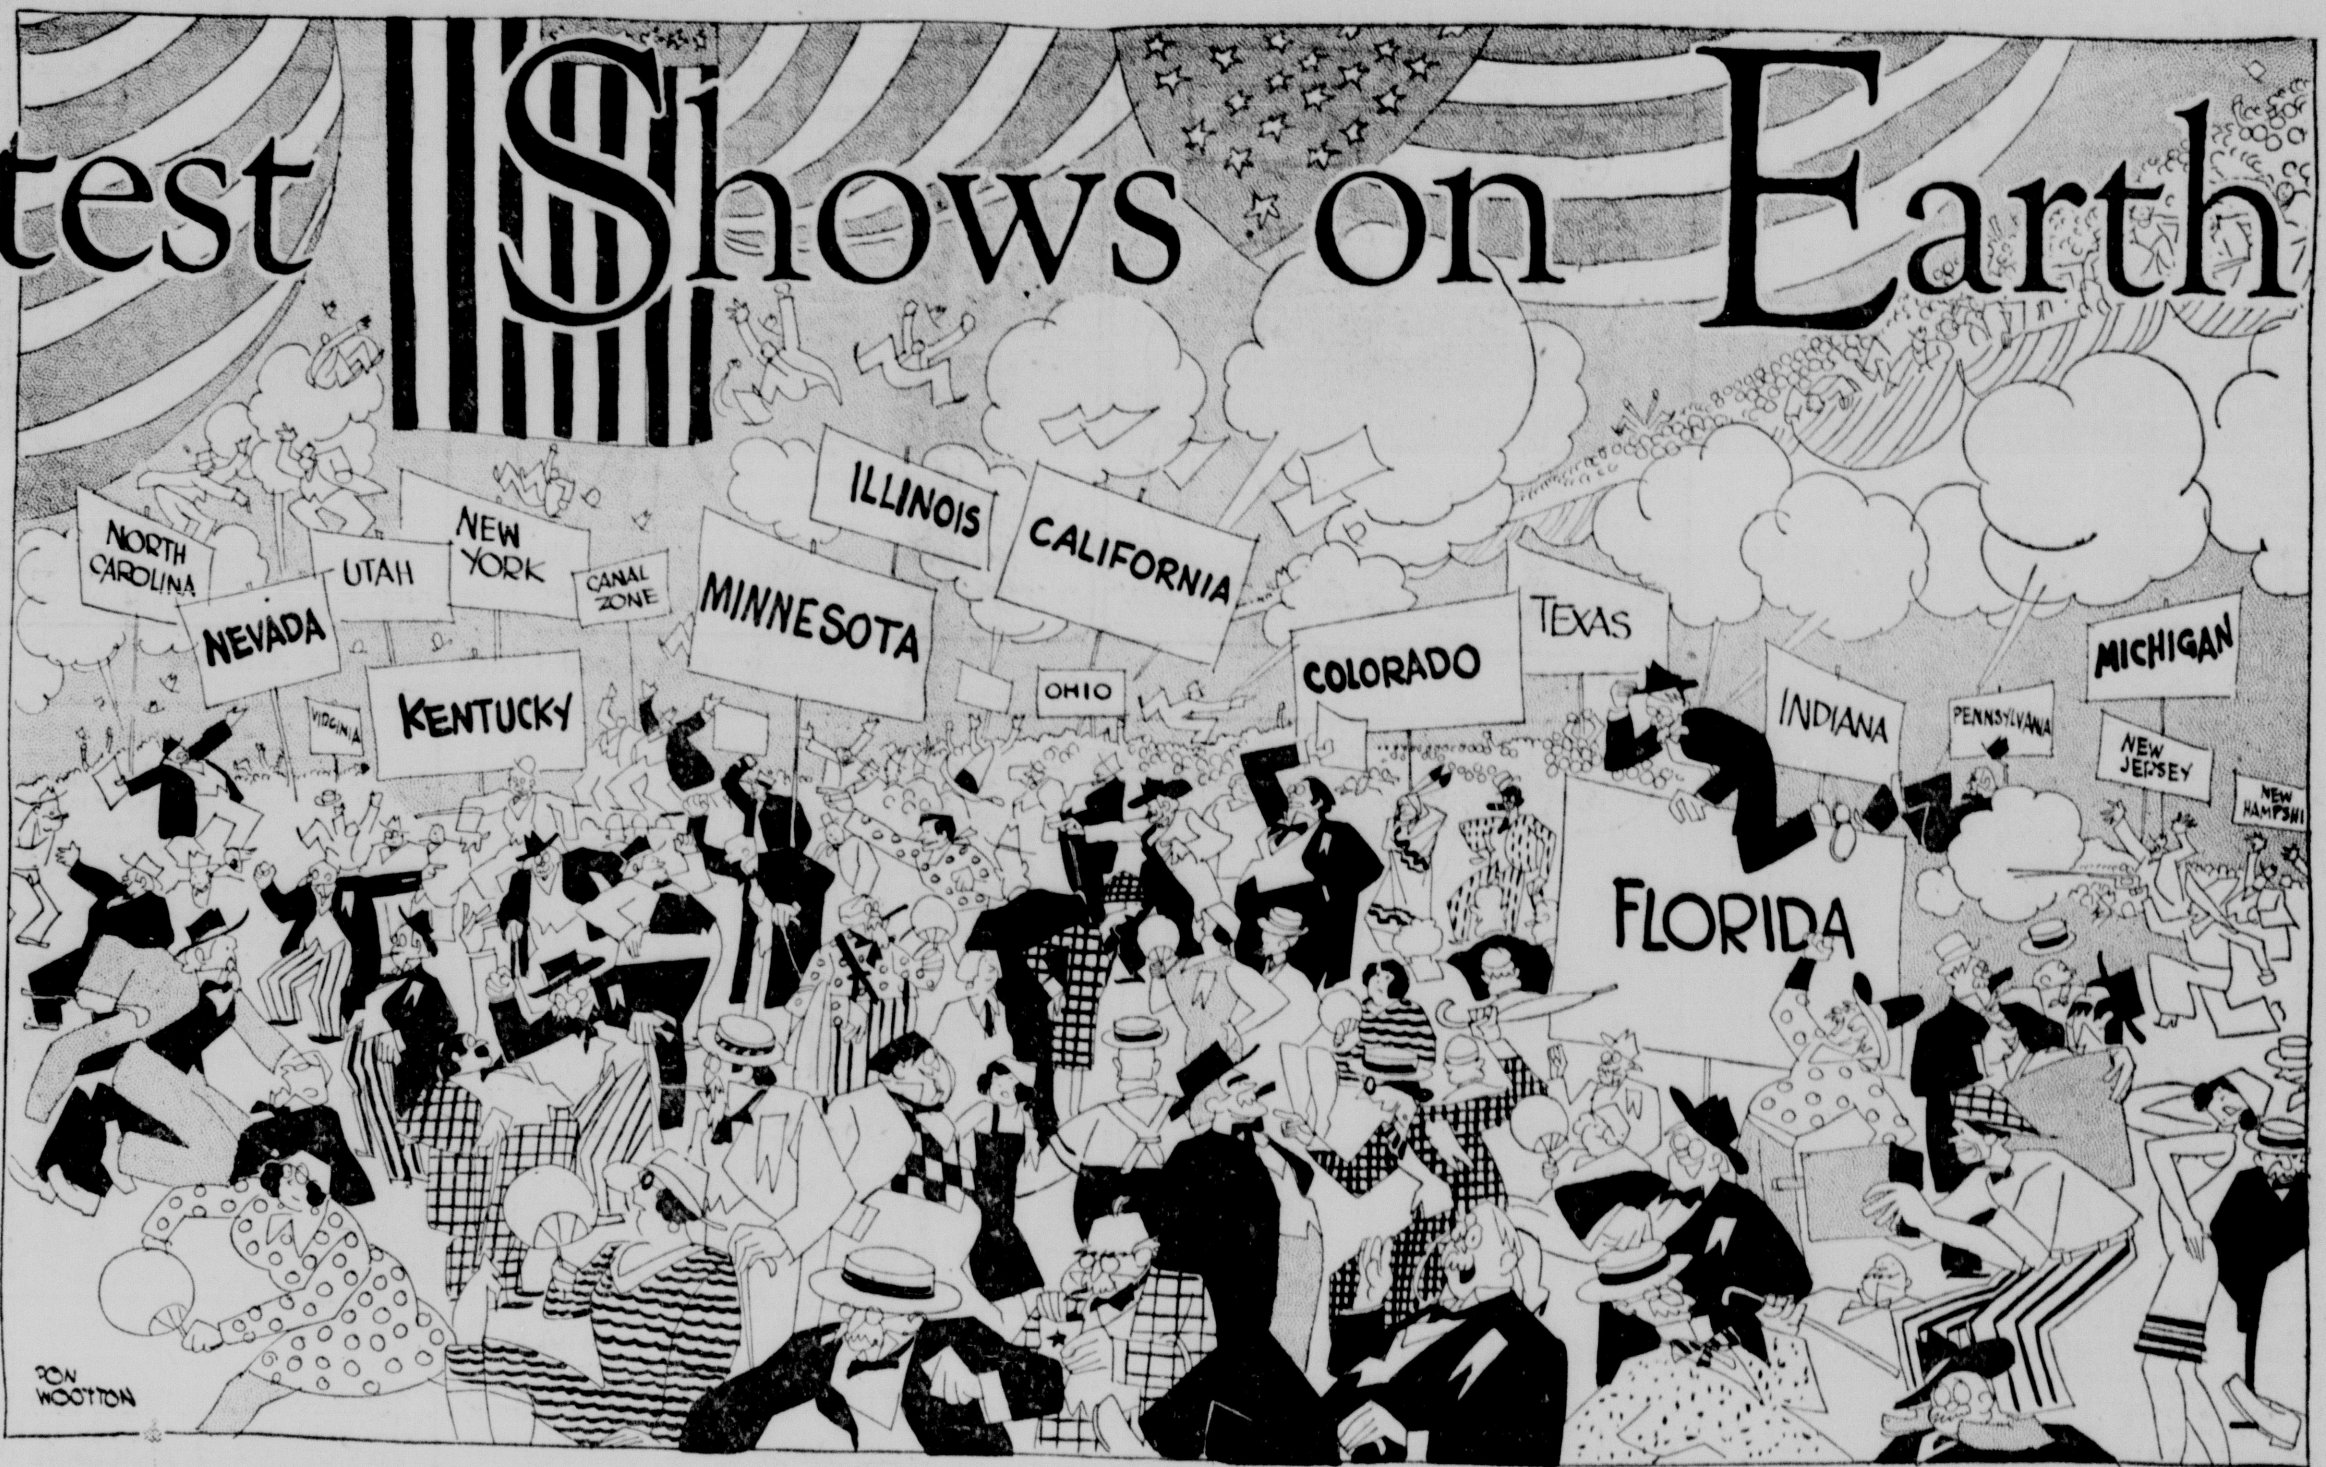

Barnum sometimes ran his circus simultaneously with a neighboring national convention, and once, in 1880, tickets to the press gallery of the Republican nominating performance in Chicago were actually distributed from the Barnum ticket office next door. There was something beautifully co-operative and friendly in the relations of these competing shows, both 100 per cent American, but Barnum, no doubt, thanked God that the great rival circus performed only once in four years.

As a circus, this national institution of ours could not be improved; it is perfect. But as a device for nominating men to the most influential political office in the world, it falls somewhat short of perfection, though it is much less defective than its boisterous and chaotic tendencies would lead us to expect—for its action is greatly influenced by public opinion.

THE first national convention that fairly deserves to be called "the greatest show on earth" was the one held at Chicago which nominated Abraham Lincoln, in 1860. It was the first to have most of the trimmings now considered indispensable for achieving the desired dramatic and political results.

It had a special building erected for its own use, and it was the first to bring telegraph wires and instruments into its very midst. It was the first almost to admit the general public in large numbers, for the "Wigwam" as the convention building was christened, had a capacity of between 5,000 and 10,000, and it was crammed at every session.

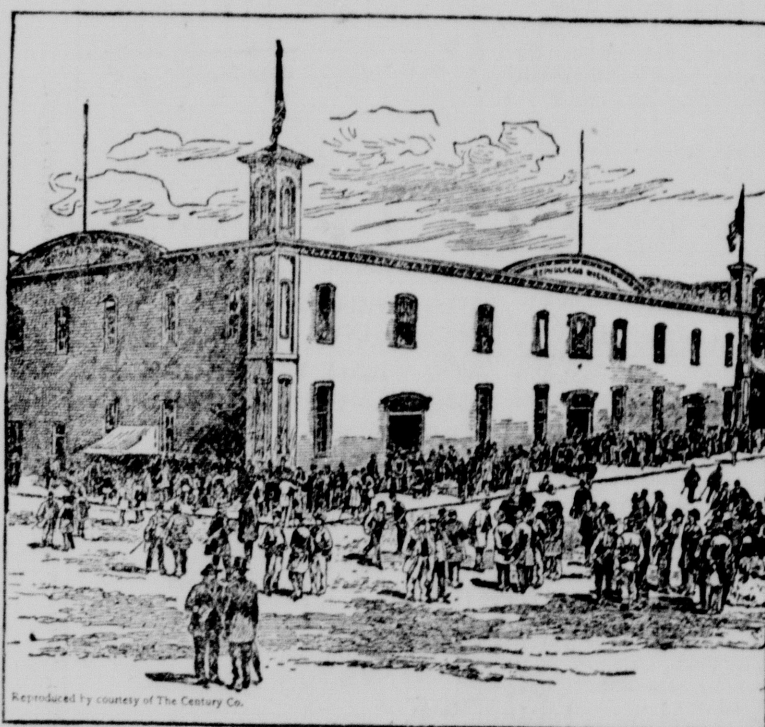

The spectators, outnumbering the duly elected delegates five or six to one, played the part that their successors have played in many

The Kansas City convention hall. Here the G. O. P. delegates will, with traditional ballyhoo, pick the party's next presidential candidate.

The recently completed Democratic National Convention Auditorium at Houston . . . will soon tremble to the din of frenzied politics.

The "Wigwam" at Chicago . . . housed the convention that nominated Lincoln in 1860 . . . was the scene of the forerunner of the modern political convention.

a similar body since that time. They consisted almost entirely of ardent supporters of the leading candidates, who were there to cheer on signal, and to keep on cheering till death or nomination seemed about to ensue. In fact, the modern practice of cheering and counter-cheering in tests of competitive noise and endurance, began at this convention.

Lincoln's chief rival for the nomination was William H. Seward, and the Seward contingent from New York, several thousand strong, had gone to the convention fully confident of victory. They had a gorgeously uniformed brass band, and they marched about the streets with military precision, to the admiration of the populace.

They announced a grand parade on the morning of the day on which the convention was to meet. When Lincoln's managers heard of this, they took counsel as to what should be done to offset the display.

After much debate it was decided to fill the "Wigwam" with Lincoln shouters, while the Seward men were marching, and to occupy all available space so completely that the latter could not get in. The scheme was successful. When the Seward men, after much proud marching, at last came back to the "Wigwam," very few of them could squeeze in.

WITH the naming of candidates, the prolonged cheering contests began. When the Seward nomination was made, pandemonium of the modern type broke loose, lacking only the artificial noise instruments.

"The effect was startling," says one who was present. "Hundreds of persons stopped their ears in pain. The shouting was absolutely frantic, shrill, and wild. No Comanches, no panthers, ever struck a higher note or gave screams with more infernal intensity. Looking from the stage over the vast amphitheater, nothing was to be seen but thousands of hats—a black, mighty swarm of hats—flying with the velocity of hornets, over a mass of human heads, most of the mouths of which were open."

When Lincoln's nomination was made, the counter-demonstration began. "The uproar," we are told, "was beyond description. I thought," continues our observer, "the Seward yell could not be surpassed, but the Lincoln boys were clearly ahead, and, feeling their victory, as there was a lull in the storm, they took deep breaths all around and then gave a concentrated shriek that was positively awful, and accompanied it with a stamping that made every plank and pillar in the building quiver."

That careful preparation had been made for this, is shown by the established fact that the Seward men had engaged Tom Hyer, a prize-fighter, with a gang of roughs, to marshal their forces and to lead in the cheering and yelling, while the Lincoln managers had hired a couple of men with stentorian voices, had instructed them carefully as to the methods they were to use, and had placed them in the galleries which they had packed with their followers.

Ever since the Lincoln convention of 1860, this practice of packing the hall with noise demons seems to have continued. These fakirs not only seek to sway the delegates; they also try to hypnotize and seduce enthusiastic spectators into unseemly outbursts. A distinguished citizen of Massachusetts relates a moving incident of such seduced and hypnotized sincerity in the Republican convention of 1880.

"An enthusiastic woman," he says, "jumped up on a rail behind the chairman and began to harangue the meeting, balancing herself so doubtfully on the narrow edge that ex-Governor Jewell gallantly supported her by both his hands until she could be pacified."

"In swinging her parasol about," continues the gentleman from Massachusetts, "she nearly struck me, just below her, and to avoid further danger I raised my umbrella and sat safe under her (its) lee until she subsided."

RELEASE from this noise hypnosis is sometimes found only in a sense of humor. In the Republican convention of 1916, "T. R." enthusiasts were struggling against fate, supported by the galleries, but not by the delegates. As a small herd of these bull moose trotted about the hall bellowing "We want Teddy!" echoed by the cheering galleries, it was observed that most of the delegates stood or sat patiently without manifesting emotion of any sort.

One coatless enthusiast was observed to trudge up one aisle and down another shout in "We want Teddy! Everybody's for Teddy!" Then, as he looked at the undemonstrative delegates, he again shouted, "Everybody's for Teddy—but the delegates!"

One of the most satisfying pleasures to be derived from attendance at a presidential convention nowadays is that of observing the people there who have either lost their sense of humor, or temporarily parked it outside.

Ordinarily the late Senator Albert J. Beveridge was not without that saving grace, but in the Bull Moose convention of 1912 it escaped him for a moment when he was trying to get the meeting started. In the midst of much hand music and hubbub, he suddenly appeared on the floor, anxious and profane, looking for the chaplain.

"Where is that blankety-blank preacher!" he roared; "we want him to start his prayer!"

It was at this same meeting that many a Gentile was edified almost to tears of merriment by seeing the staunch old Hebrew, Oscar Strauss, singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" with all his Jewish might.

In the deadly earnest convention of the Populists in 1896, the humorless sergeant-at-arms met with an accident that threatened to become serious. This incident might well be captioned "Panting in suspense." Amid his efforts to keep order, his "galluses" broke and his pants slipped and slipped. He struggled with those pants, but he did not have hands enough to control the situation. He needed his hands to wave the convention to order, to point his assistants where they should go, and to bang on the desk with the gavel.

Moreover, he was the most frantic of all the frenzied mob in applauding the orators, pausing now and then just in time to recover his descending trousers.

MENAGERIE and acrobats alone can never make a circus. There must be a clown. The presidential convention-circus runs true to type in this. Its clown is a composite personality consisting of those numerous native humorists to be found, and also heard, in any Yankee multitude, who instantly see, pounce upon, and scatter to the crowd the makings of a laugh in any ludicrous situation. They serve their country as "Minute Men of Mirth."

In 1912, after an orator in the Democratic convention at Baltimore had reached a climax of frenzy, his voice cracked.

"Now you've torn it!" shouted the Minute Man.

At the Chicago convention in the same year, Victor Rosewater, chairman of the national committee, to whom dignity is difficult because of his small stature, was picked up in a burst of enthusiasm by a giant in the Texas delegation and held aloft.

"Put that child down!" cried the Minute Man. "You're not its father!"

When the Democratic convention in New York four years ago had just cast its futile ballots for the seventy-ninth time and seemed likely to continue in session till the crack of doom, they took time out to felicitate Governor Campbell, the head of the Ohio delegation, that he had arrived this day at the eighty-first anniversary of his birth. Said the Minute Man, "I hope he will still be alive at the conclusion of this convention."

THE immediate problem is, apparently, to bring the primary and the convention into a better relationship.

"In other words," as one recent writer on the subject—P. O. Ray—says, "both national convention and presidential primary should be retained, but their relations should be reversed."

Under such an arrangement, the new role of the national convention would be restricted to drafting the party platform and to the selection of not more than five or six names to be submitted to the party voters at the ensuing primary.

The aspirant receiving the highest number of votes in the primary would thereby become the candidate for the presidency, and the one receiving the next highest vote (unless he were already president or an ex-president) should be bound to accept the nomination for the vice-presidency.

If the final decision respecting nominations was thus placed in the hands of the party electorate, the national convention might safely be made a much smaller and more efficient body.

The Busiest Man in Houston

With the Democratic convention drawing near, the busiest man in Houston, Texas is Jesse Jones. Besides being chairman of the arrangements committee, Jones is an ex-officio member of all subcommittees, and because of his prominent role in the party has numerous conferences almost daily with Democratic leaders.

So This is Miss Paris!

Raymoide Allain, of Paris, France, 16-year-old beauty, won over several hundred contestants for the honor of representing her city and country in the International Pageant of Puichritude at Galveston, Texas, June 2 to 5. She is a daughter of a Paris attorney and on her father's side is a descendant of St. Thomas Aquinas, noted theologist of the thirteenth century.

Murdered by Kidnaper

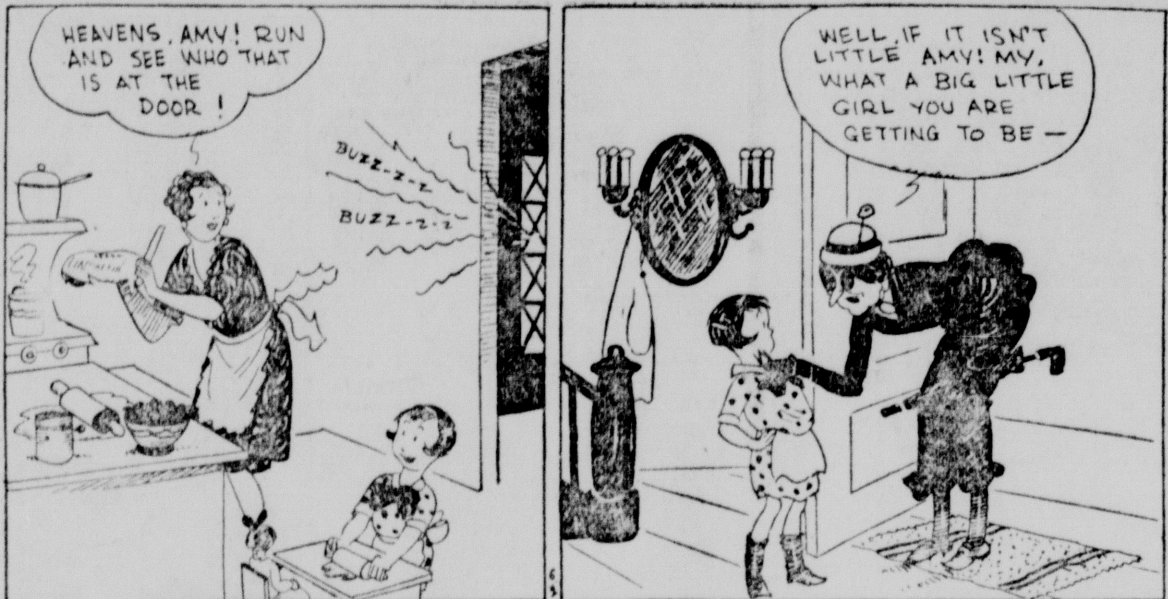

Here is Dorothy Sienkowski, 7, Toledo, O., who was dragged from her bed by a nocturnal intruder, kidnaped, murdered and her body thrown on her grandfather's porch. The girl was choked to death with a pair of bloomers which the slayer removed from her body and knotted around her neck.

LOUGHRAN WINS
IN CLOSE SCRAP
WITH PETE LATZO

Champion Light-Heavy
Unimpressive When He Staged Rally

New York, June 2—(AP)—Tommy Loughran from Philadelphia, who rules the 175 pound branch of the fistie kingdom, perched a bit unsteadily on his throne today, happy that title battles in this state must be carried on through fifteen rounds.

For ten rounds last night, 18 of his subjects set almost in awe in the darkness of Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn ball club while under the glaring canopy of light that marked his throne room in the center of the diamond, Pete Latzo, Scranton coal miner, showed how a champion may be dethroned.

For ten rounds, Pudgy Pete, who once was recognized as king in the 147 pound class cuffed the champion with right and left hand swings that came out of most infrequently places and landed, not infrequently on the chin and ribs of the puzzled title holder. Many of them didn't land at all, and in-between-times, Tommy pounded the miner's features with his straight left and sizzling right uppercut. At the end of ten rounds, four seemed to have gone Latzo's way, three had been won by the titleholder and three were even.

About that time with his subjects calling hoarsely for a rally and the biggest fistie upset of the season trembling in the balance, Loughran became the champion again. He bounced away from the ropes, where Latzo had punished him severely, fought his fight in the center of the ring and saved the title for Philadelphia with a surge that carried the last five rounds.

Latozo gave up his title chance stubbornly but the strength he had wasted in wild lunges and excessive swinging through the early rounds, could no longer put Loughran to the ropes. Throughout the last five rounds, Tommy battered Pete's head with jolting uppercuts almost at will and raised a patch of bright red above the challenger's left kidney with overhand rights. The closing rally gave him eight rounds to Latzo's four with three even.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(BY THE AP)

Brooklyn—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, defeated Pete Latzo, Scranton (15). Jack Townsend, New York, won by disqualification from Al Walker, New Haven (7). Nando Tassi, Italy, beat Wyoming Warner, Cheyenne, (6). Arthur Flynn, Lawrence, Mass., defeated Eddie McMullen, Dublin, by disqualification, (6).

Omaha—Tommy Grogan, Omaha, knocked out Augie Pisano, Brooklyn, (1). Erie, Pa.—Maxie Strub, Erie, knocked out Boots Antley, Atlanta, Ga., (3).

St. Louis—Dave Knost, St. Louis, knocked out Rocco Stramaglia, Italy, (1). Tommy O'Laughlin, Springfield, Ill., defeated Charley Glazer, Chicago, (10). Mike Sansone, St. Louis, outpointed Tommy Maroon, Kansas City, (10).

Americans Have One
More Match to Win

Chicago, June 2—(AP)—Only three successive upsets can prevent Captain William T. Tilden and his United States tennis team from entering the semi-finals for the Davis Cup in Europe this month.

Their victory in the American zone finals for the trophy was virtually assured yesterday when Tilden and Johnny Hennessey of Indianapolis swept the two opening singles matches with the Japanese stars, Tamio Abe and Yoshiro Ohta, in straight sets here.

Only one more match victory was necessary for the Americans of the three left and Capt. Tilden and George Lott of Chicago hoped to win that today when they paired in the doubles match with Abe and Capt. Teizo Toba. Two singles matches also remain to be played Sunday, but a victory in today's doubles will make them a mere formality. With a brisk wind swirling dust on the courts, Tilden merely toyed with Abe in his singles match yesterday.

Hennessey's task was a trifle harder. Ohta started out with a dazzling speed, taking three games in the first set before the Indianapolis star could get started. When he did unleash his powerful returns, however, he baffled Ohta, forcing him to double faults time and again and winning the set. From that time on, he took comfortable leads at the start and easily won the remaining sets.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The opening conflicts of the west's first invasion of eastern National League strongholds today found scalps dangling at the belts of the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals.

Hugh Critz' home run in the tenth gave the league-leading Reds a 7 to 6 triumph over Boston. Eight pitchers saw service, five for the Braves and three for Cincinnati. Circuit drives by Plinnich and Kolp, the last Red battery, enabled the penant-bound Ohioans to tie the score in regulation innings and cash in on Critz' blow, his fourth safety of the game, in extra innings.

The St. Louis Cardinals gave the Phillies their seventh defeat in a row but knew they were in a battle. Singles by Hafey and Boettger and a wild throw by Barney Friberg decided the issue in the second inning, the Cards tallying the only run of the game. Ten hits were made by both teams. Reinhardt and Prueteach granting five.

At Pittsburgh, the Pirates batted hard behind Grimes' good pitching to beat the Chicago Cubs, 10 to 4. Sheriff Blake suffered his first defeat in six starts. The Cosairs batted him out of the box in the fourth hand kept up the assault at the expense of Hal Carlson and Holly.

John McGraw's New York Giants kept firm hold of second place by downing the Brooklyn Robins again, 4 to 3, in a pitching duel between Larry Benton and Jim Elliott. Benton's victory was his eighth in ten starts. The game was decided in the seventh, singles by O'Farrell and Ott, combined with Benton's sacrifice scoring the winning run. Travis Jackson made three errors at shortstop for the Giants.

In the only American League engagement, the Detroit Tigers made it four in a row over Cleveland, 5 to 4. The Tigers hit hie in the first inning to score three runs, a lead the Indians never were able to overcome. Longford, Indians' outfielder, hit his fourth homer of the year with none on in the sixth.

The Philadelphia Athletics and New York Yankees went barnstorming, Connie Mack's crew beating Buffalo of the International League, 11 to 3, while the Yankees were nosing out Toronto of the same league, 7 to 6.

Two Horses Died in Fire at Aurora Park

Aurora, June 1—(AP)—Today's checkup of casualties at Exposition Park, where fire yesterday damaged a stable housing over 100 race horses, revealed that only two, instead of three horses, lost their lives in the fire. The horses destroyed were First Hour, 5 year old gelding owned by J. J. Co-garry of Chicago, and Star Glory, 3 year old gelding, the property of J. W. Goode of Elgin, Ill.

The horses in the stable were freed, but Star Glory and First Hour became frightened by the flames and rushed back into the burning structure. A favorable east wind saved other buildings at the racing plant from being destroyed.

The fire was believe dto have been started by someone cooking in the stable.

Cubs' Manager is Fined by Heydler

New York, June 2—(AP)—Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, has been fined $100 for abuse of umpire "Dolly" Stark during the game with the Pirates at Pittsburgh yesterday, President Heydler of the National League announced today. McCarthy was ejected from the game after a dispute with Stark over a decision at third base in the fourth inning, when the Pirates staged a rally that drove Sheriff Blake, Cub pitching ace, from the box and helped them win the game by a score of 10 to 4.

Season Sans Loss
Wolverines' Hope

Chicago, June 2—(AP)—Michigan had a chance to close its Big Ten baseball season without defeat by defeating Ohio State at Ann Arbor today.

The Wolverines, who have clinched the conference championship, have won eleven straight games and have one of the best teams the conference has ever had. They are leading the Big Ten in every department from hitting and fielding to pitching.

Today's game marked the close of the collegiate athletic career of Michigan's all-around star, Bennie Oosterbaan, three times All-American halfback, All-Conference basketball player for two years and a star on the Wolverine baseball squad. Wisconsin opposed Minnesota at Madison in the other Big Ten game.

LUMPS

By John William Shuman, M. D.
Los Angeles, Calif.

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

A lump, which is the name for swelling or tumor in Latin, may be a ven of the scalp, a mass which can be felt within the breast or abdomen, a ranglion of some tendon near a joint, an enlarged lymph gland, a thyroid grown too large, a rupture, or many other things.

No one admires, desires, or harbors a lump but tries most everything to get rid of it. Just look at the cures for warts from charms to the knife! The latter being more successful than the former. The same is true for most all other kinds of lumps, and there is a reason.

The reason is not all for cosmetic purposes, although that is a prominent feature for many desiring to get rid of moles, warts, gellers, and even a disfiguring lump on the nose. The main reason for wanting to trade a lump for a neat scar line is because that lump is quite likely to develop into something else.

A lump will do one of three things: remain the same, get larger, or go away. The last is the least likely occurrence and most people, knowing this, fear the second. When a lump grows it too frequently foretells that terrible disease, cancer!

When one studies the appalling figures pertaining to lumps in the breast there is reason enough for sitting up and taking notice. They are: "Eighty per cent of breast lumps are cancer and eighty per cent of the remaining twenty per cent become cancer."

Lumps which grow quickly and are hard painful and soon soften usually contain pus. If one prefers an unsightly scar from letting the abscess burst in preference to a neat little scar from a skillful surgeon's knife, that is his business.

If a man desires to carry a rupture until it will hold one-fourth of his intestines or until it kinks and causes chetraction, that is also his business; but he should know the risks and carry plenty of insurance.

There are a number of lumps for which, in their late stages, little or nothing can be done except relieve the pain somewhat, which is a real job; but all things, including lumps and mountains, have a beginning, and if properly managed would not have reached second, third or fourth stages. To this end, patient and physician must co-operate earnestly and intelligently.

Until folks have less fear of the doctors and doctors are less fearful of losing patients by telling them the truth, lumps will come and grow, and patients will go.

With May reaching a new high peak—Whippet and Willys-Knight sales continue to mount, month after month, week after week, day after day.

The five months just completed were by far the greatest in all Willys-Overland history. In spite of the fact that April had produced the greatest sales on record, May established a new mark with an increase of 14% above the previous record-breaking month.

The perfected Whippet Four, at greatly reduced prices, is a tremendous national success. The new Whippet Six —the world's lowest price six-cylinder motor car—is paralleling the Whippet Four in popular acceptance.

The recently announced low price of the Willys-Knight Standard Six has resulted in greatly increased demand for this splendid car. Sales of the Special Six and the Great Six continue in unabated volume.

Come in and see the Willys-Knight and the Whippet Four and Six lines. And for early delivery it will pay you to place your order now.
